Count backward aloud

Work together

1 Start at ten. Count back to one. What number comes next?

Direct evidence: Count backward to a named stop and give the next number. The revised administration records the full spoken countdown and an additional next-number response. Both are required for the existing skill statement.

Administer separately

1. Keep this sheet where the child cannot see it. No objects are needed.
2. Say: “Start at 10. Count back, and stop at 1.”
3. Listen without counting along or helping.
4. After the child stops at 1, ask: “What number comes next counting back?” Record 0 as correct only after a correct full sequence.

Accept: Says 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 in order and stops at 1. Skipping a number, saying one twice, or counting up is Not yet. Then says 0 is the next number counting back. Both the complete sequence and the next-number response are required.

Record: The child said
